FREIE UNIVERSITÄT BERLIN

5 Reasons for a Master's Degree in Germany

15.04.2025 | 18 hrs. | Austrian Library, Ilia State University, S-507, 3 Giorgi Tsereteli St, Tbilisi

Target Group

The target group of the seminar are students of all courses and specialties who are acquiring higher education, i.e. studying in specialist, bachelor's or master's programs, as well as speaking German and/or English and interested in continuing their studies in Germany.

Content and Purpose

Based on the differences between master's degree programs in Germany and Georgia, the types of master's degree programs, admission requirements including language skills are presented using the example of Freie Universität Berlin.

Afterwards, the participants will have a concrete idea of which master's degree programs they can choose, what the application process looks like and which documents have to be submitted and when. During the seminar there will also be the opportunity to ask general questions about studying and living in Germany.

Speaker

Tobias Stüdemann, Director Liaison office Eastern Europe of Freie Universität Berlin

Working language: English.

Registration:

www.fu-berlin.de/easterneurope