Full scholarships for Georgian students at the College of Europe in Natolin

The College of Europe in Natolin in collaboration with Ilia State University invites you to an online meeting on postgraduate opportunities.

The College of Europe in Natolin offers an Advanced Master's program in European Interdisciplinary Studies with full scholarships for citizens of Georgia.

The bilingual programme, led by renowned experts, allows students to specialise in historical and civilisational issues as well as contemporary challenges facing the European Union. At the end of their year of study, graduates go on to careers in international administrations, NGOs or the private sector.

From the 2026/27 academic year, the College of Europe in Natolin will offer a new track in European Security and Strategy. This new specialisation has been conceived in response to the growing need in Europe for strategic thinking and expertise in the multidimensional facets of security.

The College of Europe, established on the initiative of the Hague Congress, dates back to 1949 and is the oldest postgraduate institute of European studies. After the end of the Cold War, in 1992 the College of Europe in Natolin began its mission to prepare students to think beyond disciplinary boundaries, beyond preconceptions, and to encourage them to build bridges and embrace a wider perspective on Europe.

Natolin offers different scholarships for Georgian citizens.

The deadline to submit applications is 14 January 2026.

If you are interested in this opportunity, we invite you to participate in an online meeting with the College representative, who will provide detailed information about the programme, scholarship opportunities, the application process, and will address all your questions.
